Dear Colleague:

The U.S. Department of Transportation (DOT), Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) is pleased to announce its 2007 Summer Transportation Internship Program for Diverse Groups (STIPDG). This year, we will celebrate 16-years of operation for this highly competitive program. The purpose of the program is to introduce students to the field of transportation through a 10-week agenda of research, work experiences, and travel. The DOT Internship Program, to be conducted from June 4 through August 10, 2007, provides an excellent opportunity for students to gain hands-on experience in the transportation field. Students may be selected from a number of academic disciplines that have included but are not limited to: Civil Engineering, Planning, Economics, ITS Transportation Management, Environment, Hazardous Materials, Aviation, Public Administration, Management Information, Technology, Law, Criminal Justice, Communications/Languages, Financial Management, and Marketing.

Each year, the STIPDG has attracted highly motivated individuals from across the country to work in the DOT Headquarters Offices in Washington, DC, and our nationwide field offices. The 2007 STIPDG will provide selected interns with individualized work assignments, opportunities for the interns to participate in site visits to key transportation facilities, briefings from high-level officials, and exposure to the various DOT operating administrations, including the Federal Highway Administration, the Federal Railroad Administration, the Federal Aviation Administration, and the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration, just to name a few.

The application package can be found on the web at http://www.fhwa.dot.gov/education/stipdg.htm. The application cannot be filled out online. Please have applicants print all necessary documents from this website, fill out, and return by December 29, 2006 to USDOT STIPDG, P.O. Box 23288, Washington, DC 20026-3288.
